Using the divining, or dowsing rod as a means of exposing miner beliefs, it argues that a robust vernacular science preceded institutionalized geology in Saxony, and that the Freiberg Mining Academy (f.1765) became a site for the synthesis of tradition and new science. The tacit knowledge of dowsing was the mark of the experienced prospector, and rather than decline in importance through the Enlightenment, the practice transformed from a study of mineral vapors into an experimental branch of ...

He believes that dowsing survived partly because earth science had not yet developed to the point that it could be of any use in the all-important practice of prospecting. Since dowsing consequently had no real competition in this regard, Dym notes that the subject of ' digging ', which included dowsing, continued to be taught in Saxony ' s ...
