Rethinking the World tells us when and why we can expect changes in the way states think about the world, why some ideas win out over others, and why some leaders succeed while others fail in redirecting grand strategy.

Rethinking the World: Great Power Strategies and ...

Jeffrey W. Legro's Rethinking the World looks at dramatic new departures in the thinking of great powers—America's and Japan's emergence from isolationism; Gorbachev's 'new thinking' that ended the Cold War; Germany's break with its Nazi past—and shows how external shocks combined with domestic politics and the pre-existing stock of ideas about the world to determine whether change would happen and whether the change would stick. This book's fruitful, balanced approach will be a welcome ...
