What's your opinion of the ZD30-powered Navaras? I know that there are a lot of problems with those engines in the Patrols, but you don't really hear of any problems with the utes. At a guess I'd say it's because the utes are running a de-tuned version of the engine, because when I went to test drive one I took along a mate who owns a ZD30 Patrol and he reckons it would leave the ute ...

Look out for the more reliable YD25 engine instead of the ZD30. Top 3 tips with the Nissan Navara D22: 1. Plan your mods wisely as I've redone the suspension setup 3 times till I got it right as each time I modified something meant I had to redo the suspension to suit. 2. Don't overdo the engine mods it's not all about the big power.
